“ To Allison and your family: My sincere deepest condolences for the recent passing of your mother. Just having gotten to know you 2021, and having the pleasure of meeting your mother for the first time, I saw the closeness between you and your mother. As a woman of God, you already know God's reasons for calling your mother home ... and He saw in you and yours what a "job well done" caring for her! Take all the time you need to grieve and know that you are surrounded by prayer warriors to keep you on what may seem to be a shaky foundation. Allison, as God is preparing your mother's body for her transition, keep her spirit within your heart, and lean on God's strength will keep you lifted. Rest In Peace, Mrs. Elaine White.
