To my brother we didn't grow up together but we knew we were brothers we share something special that only a few siblings share. Our birthdays not many can say they where born on their brothers birthday down to the date one year later. We would see each other thru the years catch then live our separate lives as we grew older we got in touch a bit more but still world's apart. Your in heaven now in peace and with love ones. So with this I'll say "Till we see each other again" Amen 🕊️🙏
