“Miriam and I were high school classmates and close friends. Sadly, we lost touch after graduation as we went in wildly different directions. But we reconnected a few years ago. We last saw each other in 2023, when I happened to be passing through Stamford. Her goodness and warmth was infectious. I had just written an email to her days ago as I plan to be again passing through Stamford again next month and hoped to say hello again. When my email bounced today, I googled, and learned of her recent passing. Miriam was special and I miss her terribly. She was a good, honorable person who made this planet a better place. - John Heenehan, Madison, NJ
